

Object seen from below in relation to moon.

Sketch of the object I saw on 02/01/2015 shown here when it was going north (to the left).
View seen from below looking above to the east as it was flying over the moon.

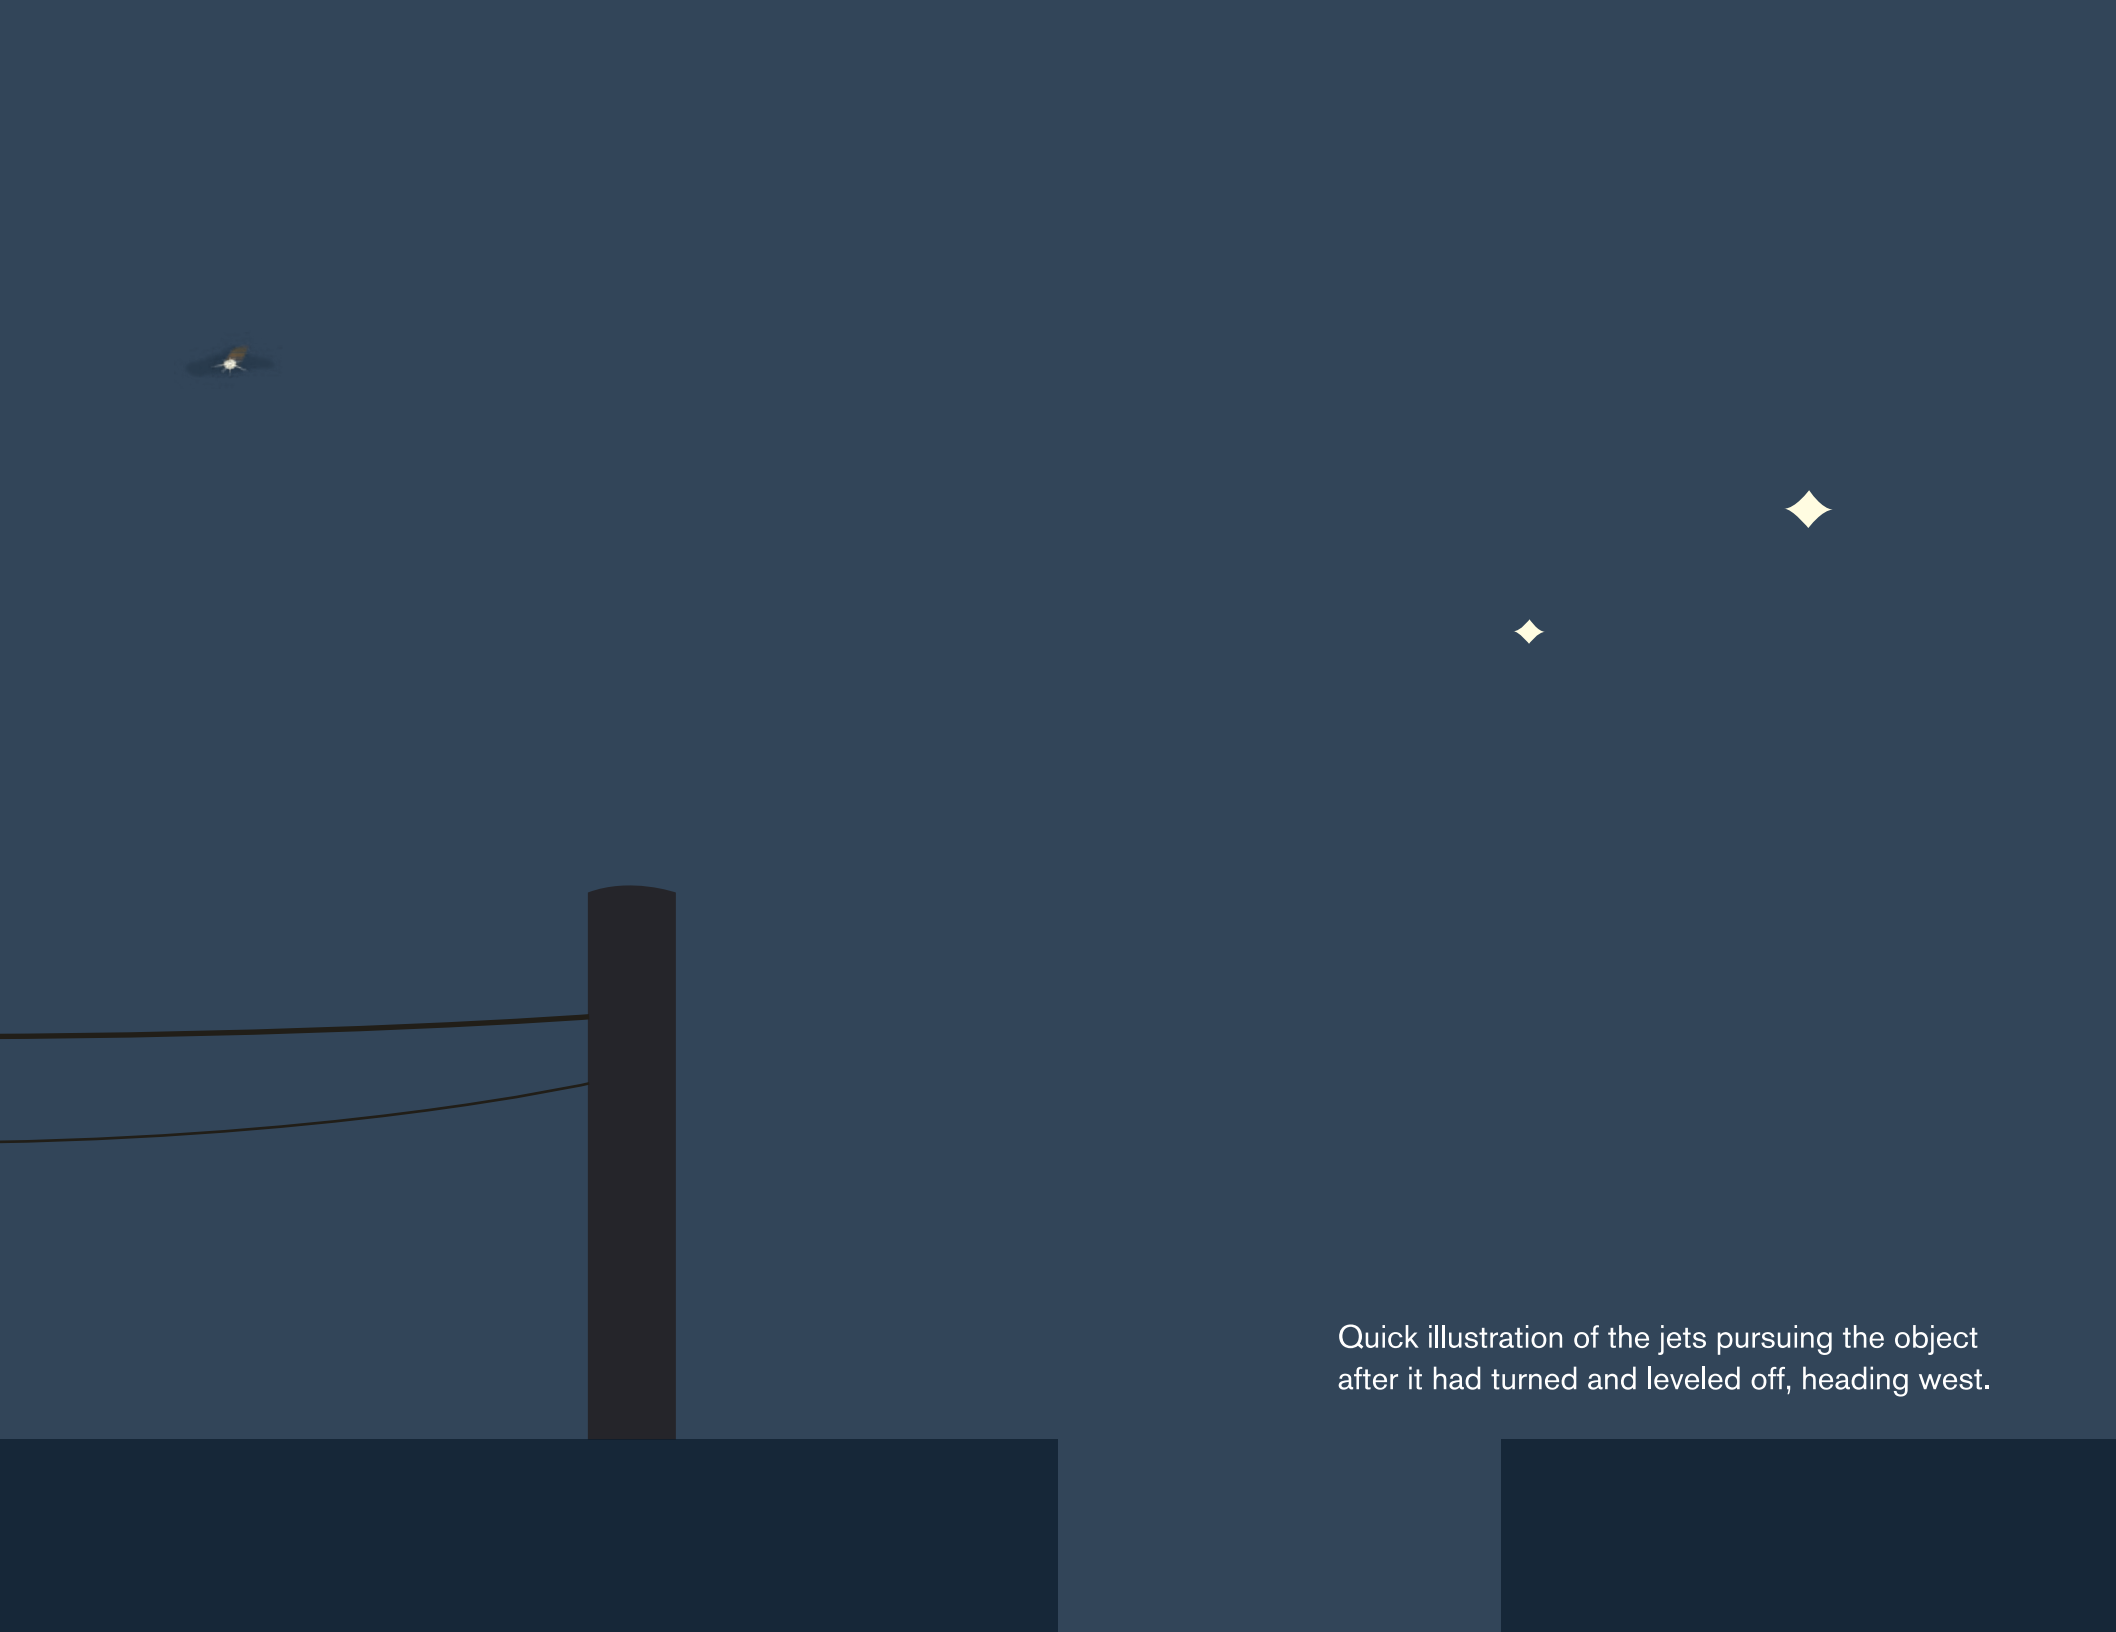

Closer detail sketch of the object.

Light in center seemed to illuminate rusty orangish areas on the craft, which appeared to have some darker horizontal lines running across. Outer areas of the craft could be seen but seemed fuzzy, making it difficult to determine edges and definite shape.

Object seen from the side.

Sketch of the object from its side as it was making a sharp turn to the west. Two lights were seen from this view.

Quick illustration of the jets pursuing the object after it had turned and leveled off, heading west.
